Their sentencing was postponed until Oct. 5, pending a motion for a new trial.

Negotiations Continue in Steel Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The nationwide steel strike will be 43 days old Wednesday, which will make it the second longest steel strike since the end of World War II.

And there's no settlement in sight.

Negotiations continue today.

The union's Executive Board was to meet today to hear a report on negotiations from McDonald and union bargainers who have been meeting industry representatives during McDonald's absence.

Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald is expected to return to the talks Wednesday after an absence of two weeks. He stepped out to emphasize the lack of progress.

There was no sign of further action by the White House, after the release last week of a fact-finding report—without comment or conclusion—by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Both sides claimed the facts backed their positions.

President Eisenhower is understood to be reluctant to interfere with the process of collective bargaining.

The union has demanded a 15-cent hourly package increase for each year of a new contract. The (Turn to Page Ten)

Heat on Powerful Committee To Boost Gas Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—The heat was on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee today to approve a compromise 1-cent-a-gallon boost in the federal gasoline tax for one year.

The pressure came from Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-GTex), and he was applying it to forestall a deadlock in the waning session over financing the interstate highway program, now in the red.

At his insistence, the House Ways and Means Committee meets today to reconsider a plan it had approved earlier. This plan, which would boost the present 2-cent tax a penny a gallon for 22 months, has run into strong opposition in the House. Rayburn proposed cutting the period to 12 (Turn to Page Ten)

Annual Teachers' Institute Is Scheduled for Next Week

Next Monday, August 31, has been set as the date for the annual institute for Warren county teachers, according to announcement made by John Mallory, Jr., county superintendent of schools.

This year's institute will be held at the Dwight D. Eisenhower High School, Russell-Lander road, with teachers assembling at 11:00 o'clock, following organizational meetings at local schools under the direction of respective principals.

Appearing on the program will be Dr. Will W. Orr, president of Westminster College at New Wilmington, and Ivan Boxell, newspaperman and world traveler, who will speak on the theme "Greater Teachers for a Smaller World." Lunch will be served in the high school cafeteria.

Relocation of three miles of Route 59 around the site of Kinzua Dam is expected to get under way before the end of the year. Halsey W. Harmon, project engineer of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, told the Times-Mirror he expected quick approval of the project in Harrisburg.

Federal funds are available from the $2,800,000 authorized by Congress but the engineer said no estimate on the cost of the road was available. He said he anticipated rapid approval of the project in Harrisburg because of Gov. Lawrence's interest in the dam project.

The relocation will be permanent and will re-route the highway around the permanent reservoir formed by the dam. The road will go around the left of the dam and will reach the top level of the 1,375-foot wide earth and concrete structure.

The relocation route has been surveyed and a tentative agreement has been reached with the State Highways Department through Harold G. Gahagan, district highway engineer at Franklin. The engineer said there are some legal points to be cleared up but he did not anticipate any delay from these.

After clearance through Harrisburg it will take 30 to 60 days after advertising for contractors' bids before a contract will be awarded. Harmon said. The plans for the road include a parking area at the left edge of the dam for sightseers to view the site.

Commissioners Plan Field Registrations

Five local field registrations of voters in Warren County have been scheduled by the county commissioners. Registration closes Sept. 14 until after the Nov. 3 election.

Field registrars will visit Grand Valley Sept. 3, Kinzua and Sugar Grove Sept. 4, Youngsville and Clarendon Sept. 5, Sheffield and Columbus Sept. 9 and Russell and Tidoute on Sept. 10. Hours at all these communities will be from 1 to 8 p. m.

In addition to the field registrations, extra hours have been scheduled at the registration office in the court house. On Sept. 11 the office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., on Sept. 12, a Saturday, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on the last day of registration, Sept. 14, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Expect Committee To Give Approval To Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new billion-dollar compromise housing bill was approved today by the House Banking Committee.

The measure is a substitute for the $1,375,000,000 bill vetoed earlier this session by President Eisenhower.

The committee stamped approval on the Senate-passed housing substitute by a 19-4 vote, without hearings and without change.

The bill does not entirely satisfy committee Republicans who dislike a number of administration-opposed features. But Rep. Gordon L. McDonough (R-Calif.) indicated after the committee acted that there is little choice this late in the session.

Rep. Albert Rains (D - Ala), chairman of the housing subcommittee, said he planned to go directly to the House Rules Committee with a request for clearance to the floor.

Police Chief Issues Advice To Student Bicycle Riders

Students depending on bicycle transportation to school starting next Wednesday, were reminded of the responsibilities they assume in riding in traffic by Police Chief Mike Evan today.

There have been approximately 1,500 bicycles licensed in Warren this summer, and a great many cyclists will be riding to their classes this fall.

"Bike riders must obey all traffic signals and signal stops and turns, as do operators of motor vehicles," Chief Evan explained. "They should ride single file on the right hand side of the street—at all times—and not against traffic."

"From observation and complaints received, the users of Madison avenue are the greatest violators of this rule," Evan said.

All bike riders should have their two wheels checked and inspected by a competent mechanic before the start of the school term. This insures lights, brakes and signaling devices working in proper and safe order.

Local law enforcement officers reminded motorists that young cyclists will be joining the early morning traffic flow, and urged drivers to show the bike riders proper traffic courtesies.

"Drivers should be alert for bike riders during pre-school hours and at all times when in the vicinity of schools," Evan said. "Vehicle operators should observe school zone signs as required by law, for safety of students it was pointed out."

Evan expressed his satisfaction with the extremely low bicycle accident rate in the borough. The interest taken in bike riding by various civic and fraternal organizations had much to do with the reduction of cycling mishaps, he pointed out.

G. O. P.-Dems Divided on Best Way To Protect School Districts Against Aid Cuts

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans and Democrats were divided today on the best way of protecting some 2,000 school districts against the prospect of sharp cuts in state aid in 1960-61.

The Republican Senate passed a plan Monday night to freeze school subsidies at the level planned for the coming school year. The vote was 34-11.

Democratic leaders lost—for the time being—a battle to use the Lawrence administration's recommendation. It provides that school districts would receive in 1960-61 at least 75 per cent of the subsidies they would receive in 1959-60, 50 per cent in the following year, 25 per cent in the third year.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D - Allegheny) said the Democratic House would not accept the Senate Republican proposal. He made the statement as the Senate GOP majority defeated amendments incorporating the administration plan.

Under a state tax equalization board report on 1958 real estate market valuations, some 2,000 of school districts stand to lose about seven million dollars in state aid in 1960-61.

The remaining 350 districts, including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, would gain about 3 million.

The board's figures are a key factor in calculating state aid to schools.

Barr said Senate Republicans would never have submitted the freeze plan "if the shoe were on the other foot."

He referred to the fact that many rural districts would lose state aid under the board's report while Philadelphia and Pittsburgh school districts would gain.

Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) said he long has favored the board's program—that this was the first time he took exception to its annual report.

"This is the first time all but one or two school districts are kicked in the teeth," Wagner said. Other legislative developments:

TAKES—Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) sponsored a measure to impose the 4 per cent sales tax on across-the-bar drinks.

As signed into law last Thursday, the measure applies only to sales made by beer distributors and state liquor stores. The Pechan bill would add 22 million dollars to the state treasury.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION—Gov. Lawrence called on the Legislature to enact an "above average" jobless benefits program to meet the problems of Pennsylvania's unemployed.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST—The House returned to its State Government Committee an administration-backed conflict-of-interest plan. It would prohibit state employees from engaging in private activities in which the commonwealth is involved.

APPROPRIATIONS—The House Appropriations Committee approved $149,639,883 in special appropriations, $3,106,000 more than recommended in the governor's budget.

Chief Executive Will Meet Khrushchev When He Arrives

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he intends to meet Nikita Khrushchev at the airport when the Soviet Premier arrives here Sept. 15.

This resolved the protocol question of whether Khrushchev will be received as chief of state or as head of the Soviet government.

If he were to be received as head of government, under strict protocol, he would be welcomed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower told a news conference that as chairman of the Soviet Council of Ministers, Khrushchev in effect is head of state.

There had been some indications previously that something a little short of the full No. 1 ceremony might be set up for Khrushchev.

The decision, however, was up to Eisenhower.

Though unquestionably the real top man in the Soviet Union, Khrushchev is by title only head of government, or No. 2 in the book. The titular Soviet chief of state is Klementi Y. Voroshilov, chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet.

University of Southern California music student, Miss Linda Martin, above, 21, was found stabbed to death near the Los Angeles apartment of her fiancé.

Police Say Slain Coed Apparently Knew Her Slayer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A brunette coed steps nude from a bath at her fiancé's apartment and confronts an intruder who will slash her to death with a knife in the next few minutes.

Without bothering to cover herself with a towel from the bathroom, Linda Martin, 21, and the intruder argue for five minutes in voices loud enough for a neighbor to hear.

"You get out of here," Miss Martin finally shrieks. A moment later, as the killer strikes, she cries: "Help me, help me."

Slashed several times—once near the heart—Miss Martin stumbles down a flight of stairs to a side door. Her flailing fists break the door's glass pane in a frantic effort to get away. Then, her life blood ebbing, she crumples and dies.

That's how homicide detectives reconstructed the Sunday night slaying of the talented graduate piano student who planned to marry an art student in a few months.

Nixon Supports Ike's Invitation to Khrush

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he will carry his support of President Eisenhower's invitation to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "head on" to American Legion Convention delegates today.

Nixon said at a news conference Monday night he is for the Soviet Premier's visit with Eisenhower because "Khrushchev is the man to see" to discuss differences between the two countries.

The vice president added that a face-to-face meeting was far better than the customary exchange of notes. He explained that, although other leading Soviet officials have visited this country, they have no power to make decisions.

Maine Resort Town Is Buzzing With Rumors

SEAL HARBOR, Maine (AP)—Rumors—and the denials that followed them—buzzed around this fashionable resort today far up on Maine's rocky shore.

The big question was whether Steven Rockefeller and his Norwegian bride Anne Marie would arrive here for their honeymoon.

For that matter, had they already arrived?

A spokesman at the huge estate of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said no, the honeymooners were not here, and no arrangements were being made for their arrival.

The rumors gained quick currency Monday night when a private plane landed in Seal Harbor, and an airport source said, "It carried the Rockefeller party."

CALLS FOR REAL START TOWARD SOLVING ISSUES OF THE DIVIDED GERMANY

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today one purpose of his trip to Europe is to pledge Western unity "in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression" against the allies.

The President also told a news conference that on his trip, starting Wednesday, he wants to pledge once again "America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Eisenhower met with newsmen about 14 hours in advance of his scheduled departure for conferences with leaders of West Germany, Britain and France.

His talks with them will be a prelude to his discussions with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Washington starting Sept. 15, and to his own planned visit to the Soviet Union later in the fall.

On the trip to Europe, Eisenhower will meet first in Bonn with West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer; in Britain with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and in France with President Charles de Gaulle.

At the outset of today's session with reporters, Eisenhower announced he wanted to read a statement.

Reading from it, he then said his trip to Europe has several purposes, and added that one is: "To pledge, once again, in the several capitals I shall visit, America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Next in clear words of caution obviously directed to the Soviet Union, the President said a further purpose of his journey is: "To support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression, and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security."

Besides their caution to Russia, the President's words seemed intended also as reassurance to Adenauer and De Gaulle—both of whom reportedly have misgivings about the President's forthcoming talks with Khrushchev—that under no circumstances will he make any deals behind their backs.

In his statement, Eisenhower said further that he intends to suggest to the Western leaders (Turn to Page Ten)

Bill Raising Pay of Officials Is Okayed

HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislation which would raise the maximum and minimum payments to election officials in third through eighth class counties has been given final legislative approval.

The measure, approved earlier by the House, was passed by the Senate Monday, 48-2, with Sens. Paul W. Mahady (D-Westmoreland) and Jo Hays (D-Centre) voting against it.

In counties using voting machines the minimum compensation would be raised from $10 to $12 for judges, $8 to $10 for inspectors and clerks and from $6 to $8 for machine operators. Maximum payments would be increased from $20 to $24 for judges, $15 to $22 for inspectors and clerks and $15 to $20 for machine operators.

Assistance Reaches Trapped Mountain Climbers Too Late

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP)—Two young climbers, trapped 28 hours on a ledge halfway up the almost perpendicular granite face of Profile Mountain, died Monday with rescue almost in reach.

The White Mountains bitter weather was too much for them. Clad only in light cotton trousers and shirts, they had endured numbing 38-degree cold overnight, the soaking of a driving rain borne on 50-mile winds, and thick fog.

Appalachian Mountain Club teams, exhausted by a nine-hour climb, planned a new attempt to recover the bodies today, assuming fair weather.

The victims were Alfred Whipple Jr., 20, Gales Ferry, Conn., a sophomore at Brown University, and Sidney Crouch, 21, Ledyard, Conn., a student at Exeter (Pa.) Bible Institute. They had been friends since elementary school.

John E. Taylor, 29, Princeton, Mass., who led a seven-man team that climbed to the ledge, said they found one man slumped over, either dead or dying. The other was incoherent.

Taylor said that by the time he got near the marooned pair "I would have to grip a rock, then loosen one hand with the other to move up." He described the cold as ferocious.

David Sanderson, Portsmouth, N.H., climbed to the ledge and lowered the youth still on his feet to Robert Collins, Brookline, Mass., standing 25 feet below. Collins dressed him in warm clothing. But at that point he died.

With daylight waning and the rescuers exhausted, plans to bring the bodies down were abandoned. Instead, the bodies were secured with ropes and the party went back down the mountain. The descent took another two hours.

Whipple and Crouch acquired most of their knowledge of climbing from books.

Experienced mountaineers have avoided the route the pair took Sunday.

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, world's heavyweight champion, signed a new contract today with the Rosenbluth Enterprises postponing the return match between Johansson and Floyd Patterson until "sometime between March 1 and June 15 next year."

The revised contract, agreed on after three days of negotiations between the champion and his Swedish advisers and a six-man American delegation headed by Jack Dempsey, gave no definite date or site for the return match.

The contract left it up to the promoter to choose the site and date.

Mystery of Crash in 1951 Solved Today

CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C. (AP)—The wreckage of a United States Neptune bomber and skeletons of its 11 occupants was found today on a mountainside near this Vancouver Island community.

It was believed to have crashed in 1951.

A Royal Canadian Air Force search party made the report in a terse radio message from the 4,000-foot level on Mount McCleight.

The ground party from Coombs RCAF base went to the area Monday after Cpl. W. H. Glover, an airman, reported seeing the wreckage while fishing at Roberts Lake.

In a message to an aircraft overhead, the search party said the plane appeared from documents at the scene to have crashed in 1951. Reports show a Neptune disappeared in the area in 1948 but no such plane (Turn to Page Ten)

Paths to Peace Subject of Talk Before Rotarians

Francis M. Caughey addressed the Warren Rotary Club Monday on the subject of the "Seven Paths to Peace." Mr. Caughey's remarks were based on the newest publication of Rotary International.

Mr. Caughey began his talk by suggesting that the path to international peace must begin with the individual. He asked the question of Rotarians: "How much have each of us done to promote the cause of better international understanding?" "Each of us should endeavor to develop a little more of a sympathetic attitude," he said, "so that we can better understand others and be more appreciative of the feelings and ideas of others."

The several paths to peace that were expanded by Mr. Caughey were patriotism, conciliation, freedom, progress, justice and service. The most forceful plea made by the speaker was the fact that no worthwhile endeavor is brought to fruition by merely hoping for success. A plan of action must be developed and each person must be willing to do his part—large or small—to bring about success.

Dick Ross, chairman of the recent auction and rummage sale, announced that the affair had been a real success. He reported that some $400 had been realized on the event. He expressed his appreciation to those merchants and Rotarians who helped with the sale.

Program chairman Neil Culbertson announced that next week's program would feature a Liar's Contest among the members. Dr. David Rice is the program's chairman.

Population Rush Into Titusville Increasing Daily

TITUSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The population of Titusville was up from its usual 9,000 to about 15,000 today. By Thursday it is supposed to hit 35,000 and by Saturday it should top 50,000.

Another oil rush? Yes, something like that, for this is centennial week for the oil industry and Titusville is the hometown of oil. Dignitaries and tourists were pouring into this northwestern Pennsylvania city for the birthday party which reaches its climax on Thursday, Aug. 27—the date 100 years ago on which Col. Edwin L. Drake finished digging the world's first oil well.

A wax figure of the bearded Drake arrived from the National Historical Wax Museum Monday and today it was sitting in the chair in which the colonel died in 1880.

One of the first events of oil's centennial week was almost won by a man almost as old as oil. He was fiddler Elmer Snyder, 92, of Oil City, Pa.

He fiddled so well he got a special award in the competition which was won by E. C. Neil, a mere 80, of Clintonville.

Art exhibits, barbershop quartet singing, sports, parades, fireworks, dances, banquets and speechmaking will round out the week.

“The boss offered me two tickets but I told him, ‘No, give ‘em to someone else. We already had a night out this morning.’”
“My mother raised six kids, did her own washing and ironing, and I never heard her complain in her life.”
“Let’s get one thing straight. You run the house. I’ll run the

HONOR FOR BARBERSHOPPERS

Conewango Clippings, official publication of the Warren Chapter, S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A., reminds that the chorus will open the program at the annual Chautauqua Show August 29th.

According to the article it has been decided the local singers will have this unusual honor to present approximately twelve to fifteen minutes of entertainment. Opening the show is a great tribute, it reminds "let's be sure we have a full fifty-man chorus for this event."

The Chorus, which held the weekly rehearsal Monday evening in the Parish House of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, is also looking forward to the Sectional Contest Saturday evening, September 26th, at New Bethlehem. To be eligible for the Regional Contest to be held in Bradford in November, the group must compete. Since all other choruses in the area are working hard, it is anticipated there will be keen competition, and it goes without saying every man will be at all rehearsals from now on.

Another item in the news sheet of general public interest suggests the possibility of having a Minstrel Show this year. Since it is two years since a similar entertainment was offered the community there are doubtless many who would welcome an opportunity to hear the local singers in such a program again.

KINZUA DAM ROAD

According to a special dispatch from Pittsburgh in the Buffalo News Monday the first step in erecting the reapproved Kinzua Dam to control the headwaters of the Allegheny river will be the building of a road into the site of the high level dam at Big Bend, about nine miles above this city.

Halsey W. Harmon, project engineer for the Pittsburgh District of the Corps of Engineers is reported to have stated this phase should be completed this year. Bids will be sought promptly, he states. At the same time he is quoted as saying the job of building the entire dam probably would take three or four years, depending on how fast Congress votes the money.

All of which would seem to support predictions made by Congressman Leon H. Gavin recently that it won't be long until "dirt will be flying" at Big Bend!

SIGHT SAVING MONTH

Governor David Lawrence has designated September as Sight Saving Month in Pennsylvania.

"We should all become informed of the early signs and symptoms that may warn of serious eye conditions," Lawrence says in a proclamation.

He notes the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has reported that half of all blindness can be prevented by research, education and preventative measures.

President Eisenhower, undaunted by the Democrats' numbers, kept them in a lamb like mood by threatening to veto anything they did which he didn't like. And he did. And they couldn't muster enough votes to override his veto.

Johnson didn't wait for Eisenhower to lay down his presidential program when Congress came back in January. The self-confident Johnson announced his own program Nov. 7, 1956, three days after the Democrats' overwhelming election win.

WORLD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Democrats sounded like a lion roaring when they took over Congress this year, you were hearing things. They turned out to be lambs. And their two leaders proved to be pretty mild fellows too.

The result: The Democratic performance to date is something less than eye-catching.

The two leaders—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both Texans — started off 1959, thanks to the 1958 elections, with the greatest Democratic majorities in both houses since early New Deal days.

Right now, including the new state of Hawaii, this is the line-up: in the House—284 Democrats to 153 Republicans (there is one vacancy); in the Senate — 68 Democrats to 35 Republicans.

But Johnson and Rayburn, who are both conservative and believers in compromise to get things done, have led the Democrats down a middle-road course that can't make anyone very mad — or very excited, either.

President Eisenhower, undaunted by the Democrats' numbers, kept them in a lamb like mood by threatening to veto anything they did which he didn't like. And he did. And they couldn't muster enough votes to override his veto.

Here and There

The Titusville Herald is to be congratulated on its Oil Centennial edition, printed Monday, the largest since that popular daily newspaper began publication on June 14, 1865. It consisted of 110 pages in eight sections as follows: Sections A, B, C, D, E, and F; a facsimile of the first issue, 4 pages and the regular news section, consisting of 14 pages. Mention is made of the fact that because 106 of the pages are nine columns, the edition is equivalent in space to a newspaper of 126 pages with eight columns. It is interesting to note that the edition weighs slightly less than two pounds, approximately 20 tons of newsprint were consumed, about six tons less than a carload. The issue includes 150 photographs and other illustrations and 18,144 column inches of features, news and illustrations, along with 160 Centennial advertisements, the first of which was sent to the composing room more than three months before the last section was printed. Incidentally the first section was run off July 21. Other facts behind the issue include the following as taken from an article on the subject in the issue: The first step was to index the files of The Herald for the years 1865 through 1957. This was done in the summer of 1957. During the next summer the researcher made photo-copies of hundreds of interesting articles starting in the early months of 1959 they were culled and the best selected for publication either by themselves or in a sequence with others. Invitations went out to well known writers to submit articles on their specialties. The list of out-of-town contributors will be found on Page Three, Section A, and it is quite a panel of talent. Other articles were prepared by the residents of this region whose names appear in the by-lines. Even before the last of this material was in hand, which was May, typesetting had begun. Virtually all of the type exclusive of advertising was produced by the automatic Teletypesetter method, in which an operator with a typist's skills punches a tape. At one point, before printing began, The Herald had more than 3,000 column inches of type in storage. New storage cabinets, new galleys and an extra supply of type metal were required.

An editorial in the Salamanca Republican-Press on the subject "Kinzua Dam and Recreation" makes interesting reading at this time. It says: "Legislation to establish fish hatcheries in Pennsylvania ordinarily is not of particular interest in New York state. It's different, however, with the bill which Congress has passed and sent to the President authorizing construction of fish hatcheries in Northwestern Pennsylvania. Different because these hatcheries would be used to stock the Allegheny Reservoir, to be created by the Kinzua dam, and other waters in this area, in anticipation of a big influx of fishermen. Officials estimate the cost of the hatcheries at about $800,000, and that the annual cost of operating them at around $100,000. That gives an idea of the size of the program which Congress has voted to authorize. A former head of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, now assistant Secretary of the Interior, says several proposed sites have been considered, and that the most suitable may be one at some points below the Kinzua dam. The reason assigned for this adds to local interest in the project, to wit: the proximity of the Allegheny National Forest, which adjoins on the other side of the state line Allegheny State Park. The fact also is noted that this area is within a four-hour drive from such major cities as Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, hence is under heavy fishing pressure. To meet this pressure by heavy stocking is in the mind of officials. All this is in line with official predictions that the Kinzua Dam will create a vast recreational area in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York—more specifically, Southwestern Cattaraugus county. Obviously this would be of major interest to Salamanca people and to the Seneca Indians."

Landrum-Griffin Bill Authors Have Divergent Backgrounds

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Chief interest in the Landrum-Griffin bipartisan labor bill which passed the House, 303 to 125, is in the personalities of the two sponsors.

Both are ex-high school teachers who became lawyers. Both are World War II vets. Aside from that, their backgrounds are completely different though they see eye-to-eye on labor.

Democrat Philip Mitchell Landrum, 50, of Jasper, Ga., represents 18 agricultural counties of northeast Georgia. Interestingly enough, this is the district formerly represented by John S. Wood, a strong anti-labor man.

Back in 1949, Judge Wood offered a tough substitute for the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947. The Wood bill passed the House, 217 to 203. Then Congressman Vito Marcantonio, New York left-winger, demanded an engrossed copy of the bill before final passage. Overnight, 10 Democrats and one Republican switched votes. The Wood bill died, 121 to 209.

WHEN REPRESENTATIVE WOOD DECIDED NOT TO RUN for re-election in 1952, Phil Landrum defeated five other Democrats in the primary to succeed him and has been in Congress ever since.

He learned his law going to night school while he was superintendent of Nelson, Ga., high school. He coached a basketball team to a state championship and he pitched Class B ball in the Georgia Carolina League in the summer.

Gainesville, Ga., is the biggest city in his district. Its principal industries are poultry processing and feeds. They are partly organized by AFL-CIO unions. But the prevailing influence is farming and small business, with a few textile mills.

Representative Landrum refers to himself as a country lawyer who does a little farming on the side. But he has served as assistant attorney general and secretary to the Georgia governor.

Labor relations cases have never been a major problem in his district. Most of the mail he got on labor legislation came from small businessmen and average voters who favored a strong bill.

As a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, Representative Landrum came to the conclusion that the Elliott bill was too weak. So he was a ready-made colleague for Representative Griffin in drafting a substitute.

REPUBLICAN ROBERT F. GRIFFIN represents 11 counties in the northwest part of Michigan's lower peninsula.

The northern half of this district is agricultural, famous for its huge cherry crop. The southern half, centering around Muskegon, is heavy industry and shipping. United Auto Workers and Teamsters are dominant there.

Griffin is a city boy, born and educated in the Detroit area. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School. His practice has included a number of labor cases.

He was pretty disappointed when the last Congress failed to pass better labor bills. He talked a great deal with Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the Rackets Investigating Committee.

WHEN THE HOUSE LABOR COMMITTEE—loaded two to one in favor of the unions—failed to report out a strong bill this year, Representative Griffin went to work on his own.

At nights and on Sundays, he drafted substitute provisions. Talking them over with other members of the committee, he found that his ideas and Representative Landrum's coincided on most details. And since they both realized the importance of bipartisan backing, they collaborated.

If the Senate accepts the Landrum-Griffin bill and assuming the President signs it, this will probably be the labor law of the land for the next dozen years.

Radio and TV

By HUGH MULLIGAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Captain Kangaroo, the portly, bewhiskered grandfather who presides over the good ship "Treasure House" on CBS, is about to unlock the treasure house of classical music for millions of mopepops.

"I'm not cutting in on Leonard Bernstein," insists Bob Keeshan, 32, who while neither portly, bewhiskered nor a grandfather created the role of Captain Kangaroo four years ago and built it into a top kiddie show. "I'll be working with a different age group, children from 4 to 8, the preschool set mostly."

Keeshan tried out his "pre-Young People's Concerts" last year with symphony orchestras in Rochester, Houston, Tampa and Rock Island, and this fall will do the same with orchestras in Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas and other cities.

If all goes well, he hopes to inaugurate his kiddie concerts, still under the auspices of Captain Kangaroo, as a separate television show, probably on Saturday afternoons.

"The project has generated a lot of enthusiasm around here," says Keeshan. "The way it worked in Houston and other cities is we would bring the children into a concert hall, show them a good time and at the same time try to give them an appreciation of what a symphony orchestra does."

POLIO PROTECTION

It takes a long time to determine the efficacy of a new vaccine. The product must be safe and should prevent or modify the disease. In addition, it must be practical to use. The oral polio vaccine has passed most of these tests and is having growing pains while waiting to be put on the market.

This vaccine contains live but tamed and weakened viruses. Millions of children have received it, with no fatalities, attesting to its safety. The vaccine is credited with halting an epidemic in Colombia, S. A. Tests show a high percentage of users obtain a protective antibody response. The substance is cherry flavored and the hope is that one swallow will offer immunity. What could be better?

We do not know whether the oral vaccine is as good as, better, or worse than the Salk vaccine. The latter reached the market faster than other vaccines did, possibly because there was more pressure to dispense with tradition.

But polio epidemics are occurring even though the Salk vaccine is available. There was more paralytic polio in 1958 than in 1957 and 1959 may prove to be a record year. This is blamed on public apathy in not being immunized rather than on the ineffectiveness of the vaccine.

The current increase in polio has revived interest in the disease. Most of the paralytic cases are reported to be among those who did not receive all four shots. Less is said about the nonparalytic type of polio. These cases added considerably to the incidence of polio prior to the use of the vaccine. We now know that many of these cases were not polio; they were caused by other viral infections that resemble polio in their manifestations. This may explain why the Salk vaccine offers less protection against the paralytic form of the disease.

NOSEBLEED

J. D. writes: I'm in my late twenties and never had a nosebleed until two months ago. Since then I have had two. I didn't bump my nose but just blew it. Can you tell me the cause of this bleeding?

REPLY
A broken blood vessel is the most common cause. If a third nosebleed occurs, have the area examined to determine what is happening at the bleeding point. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on nosebleeds.

TAKING YOUR MEDICINE

R. T. writes: Why do most medicines have to be taken before meals?

REPLY
They don't. They are taken before, during, or after meals or at bedtime, depending upon whether the physician believes food will interfere with absorption of the remedy. Many medications are better tolerated after a meal, as they irritate or cause indigestion on an empty stomach. Exceptions occur with drugs used to counteract stomach or intestinal distress; they must be taken to have a maximal effect when needed most.

RUSTY WATER

L. P. writes: Is it harmful to use rusty water for drinking purposes?

REPLY
Not when the amount of rust is reasonable. It may irritate the intestinal tract and turn the stool black. Thick, soupy, rusty water may be poisonous.

NOT TOO HELPFUL

W. B. writes: Is a vaccine available against staphylococcal infections?

REPLY
Yes, but it is not always effective.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Making both ends meet seems to get a little harder all the time for most folk. Even the government's mythical average man finds it so.

And for the millions of Americans who only approximate the average, the steady drain on the pocketbook puzzles those who read reports in official quarters of general price stability.

But even the statistics reveal the pinch.

The consumer price index rose to a new high in July and probably is continuing in August. And because of the steel strike and its effect on other industries and because of a seasonal drop in some factory work weeks, the average take-home pay of the factory worker dropped.

Combined with rises in prices, this means he had to spend more and had less to do it with. We are told that this should change in time and industrial output and factory incomes be on the rise again. Meantime, it's rough.

And now the government comes up with two more statistics showing what was hurting you only a short time back. They add up to still tighter squeezes on the family pocketbook.

One is a rise in taxes which took a record 112 billion dollars from American taxpayers in the fiscal year ended June 30. The other states that while personal income totals were up 2 per cent in 1958 over 1957, over-all prices rose even more.

What with higher tax payments and higher prices for many of the goods and services it needs or wants, the so-called average family had to do some fancy footwork just to keep going.

Part of the tax payments come from business. But they come out of gross earnings, and earnings start their way through the accountant's books in the form of prices or fees. Thus they become part of the hidden taxes that the consumer eventually pays.

The government breakdown on tax payments put the federal ones at about 80 billion dollars and the state and local ones at close to 16 billion dollars each.

The Tax Foundation, a private research group, says that state tax collections have doubled since 1949.

It also does some complicated figuring to report that a white collar worker, married and with two children, and making $7,500 a year, pays $1,770 a year in taxes to the federal, state and local governments, or 24 per cent of his income. It says that for the same work he would have been paid $4,900 10 years ago, but his total tax bill would have been $679, or 14 per cent of his income.

When it gets away from individuals, the government's fiscal view of the economy is more cheerful. It reports that in the second three-month period of the year the total dollar-volume of goods produced and services rendered was at a record rate of 484½ billion dollars, or 15½ billion higher than the recession low point of the previous year.

Kinzua American Legion Auxiliary Plans Hot Stove-Harvest Suppers

At the August meeting of Brant-Bentley Unit 747, American Legion Auxiliary at Kinzua, principal item for discussion was a number of special suppers coming up on the late summer schedule.

First of these will be a corn and wiener roast in the form of a "thank you" supper for the two Hot Stove League teams sponsored by Kinzua American Legion. This affair will be held at the Gerald English in the very near future.

Mrs. James Snyder, Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Angelo Dittorio will serve as co-chairmen for the second annual Harvest Supper to be served by the Auxiliary in the fire hall from 1:00 until 6:00 p. m. Sunday, October 4. Proceeds will be used for child welfare, rehabilitation and other service projects carried on by the Auxiliary.

Additional plans were made for entertaining the meeting of Inter-County Council in the Kinzua fire hall on Saturday, October 17. The session will convene at 1:30 p. m. and will feature installation of county officers by the department president, Mrs. Paul B. Dague.

Mrs. Snyder presided for the monthly meeting, when a number of other projects were reported. Mrs. Dittorio, junior activities chairman, explained this group made clown ring toss games at its August 12 meeting, attended by 13 juniors.

Next meeting of the junior group will be held in the form of a wiener roast at the Snyder home, with Mrs. Snyder as hostess.

Mrs. Stanton asked that all members ordering Newsletter or Auxiliary pins have their money in by September 3. On that same date, Cancer films will be shown in the Legion Home and the public is invited.

The special hour for the evening was in the form of a surprise baby shower for the secretary, Mrs. Jack Walter, who received a nice array of gifts.

Mrs. Joseph Cataldo and Mrs. Angelo Dittorio, hostesses, served refreshments at a table decorated in the baby theme and centered with a bouquet of gladioli.

Reviving an earlier custom of an annual summer get-together, Marconi Bridge Club members and guests enjoyed a picnic supper last evening at Marconi Outing Club prior to the regular tournament play.

The event attracted a record 16 tables, with a 136 average in both fields, and top pairs recorded as follows:

North-South—Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Conaway, 197; Harry Conner, Jr., and Robert Sokolski, 193; Mrs. Marshall Johnson and Mrs. Adele Holland, 182; Mr. and Mrs. David Cropp, back from Meadville for the evening, 175½; E. J. Rupp, Jamestown, and D. L. Vetter, 168.

East-West—Mrs. Allen Cass and Mrs. Marion Thompson, Jamestown, 189½; Henry Hunzinger and James R. Valone, 185½; R. K. McLean, summing her from Miami, and Mrs. Anabel Duff, 182½; Mrs. Conrad Nelson and Mrs. E. J. Rupp, Jamestown, 175; Mr. and Mrs. John Israel, 174.

On Sunday, local players will be host for the annual Inter-City Team-of-Four competition. Opening session will be at 1:30 p. m., followed by a buffet dinner and evening session. All area players are urged to form teams and be on hand, making their reservations with M. A. Kornreich.

ERIE TOURNEY
Mrs. John Haskell, Titusville, had an 84 for low gross for the field in the Friday tournament played by Northwestern Pennsylvania Women's Golf Association at Lake Shore Club in Erie.

Mrs. Sidney W. Blackman, Warren, had second low net in Division One; Mrs. W. C. Fuellhardt held fourth net score in the second division.

MRS. ROBERT FRANCIS FEY

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church was the setting for a lovely wedding August 22, when Marilyn Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael George Pastrick of Warren RD 2, became the bride of Robert Francis Fey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Fey of 2062 West Norwegian street, Pottsville.

Father Rocco Tito performed the double ring ceremony at 11:00 a. m. before an altar decorated with pink and white gladioli. Mrs. Donald Edinger was at the organ and Gordon Odmark was the vocalist.

Wearing white silk organza, with chapel train, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Seed pearls trimmed her matching headpiece and her bouquet was fashioned of white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Patricia Pastrick, New York City, was maid of honor for her sister and Carol Ann Fey of Pottsville, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They were gownned alike in pink, with lace bodices and silk chiffon skirts, and had headpieces of a matching shade. Their flowers were cascades of pink roses.

Norman Perry served Mr. Fey as best man; ushers were the bride's brother, Eugene M. Pastrick of Pittsburgh, and Francis Masterson.

Brides-Elect Honored By Marine Auxiliary

A delightful shower party, in the form of a wiener roast, was held last evening by General Joseph Pendleton Unit, Marine Corps League Auxiliary, to honor three of its members who will be brides in the near future.

Honored ones were Jennie Mangini, Carol Harrison and Connie Strandburg.

The event was held at the home of Nancy Dorotica, 55 McKinley avenue, with 21 in attendance.

Various games were enjoyed, with prizes awarded the winners, and each bride-elect was remembered with a gift from the group.

Those who assisted the hostess in arrangements for the evening were Arlene Mullen, Winnie Parks, Barb Harrison and Sue Papalia.

PICNIC CHANGE
Eagles' Auxiliary members are again reminding their Wednesday evening picnic, 6:00 o'clock, has been changed from Warr-Penn to Oakview Park.

Farmer in Iowa Will Give Khrushch "Different" Look

By DAN PERKES

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — The sign, placed in a strategic spot beside the road leading into this small central Iowa community, reads:

"Welcome to Coon Rapids; 1,700 friendly citizens; home of the largest hybrid seed corn plant in the world!"

But the sign tells only part of the story—as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchey will find out next month during his visit here.

For one thing, this town sits in the heart of some of the most fertile land in the world.

For another, it has Roswell (Bob) Garst, 61-year-old farmer-banker-merchant.

It was Garst who first extended an invitation to Mr. K. to visit Coon Rapids. Garst had met Khrushchey during several visits to the USSR.

It will be Garst who gives the Russian premier his first real look at how a capitalist farmer operates in the United States.

Among other things, Garst is half owner of the hybrid seed corn plant. He is president and main stockholder in the local bank, owns a 160-acre farm and operates a 160-acre farm and operates a 160-acre farm.

The blunt-spoken Garst promises to give Khrushchey a gilt-edge tour of his operations.

"He can pump me all he wants to about cattle or corn. I'll give him all the answers," Garst says.

Garst says he feels no emotion about Khrushchey's forthcoming visit. The townspeople, however, have some mixed feelings about it.

One farmer suggested Garst may have a personal interest in inviting Khrushchey here, since Garst has sold the Russians corn seed in the past.

Another said: "You just don't feed your enemies."

But one local citizen summed it up this way:

"I think it's wonderful having the spotlight on our town. Coon Rapids was unknown before. But for one day next month, the whole world will know of our town."

With These Methods, Being Happy at 75 Is No Problem

"Write a column about how to be happy at 75 with every friend gone and having to live on $100 a month, social security," asks one of my readers.

It can be done. A number of women in my town are doing it. It takes good health, courage and a determined effort to be happy. With those assets, a woman of 75 isn't really old.

The women I'm talking about are widows. Some are closer to 80 than 75. But they've found the solution of how to add to their fixed incomes by baby-sitting in their neighborhood.

Baby-sitting not only gives them a chance to make money, but gets them acquainted with their young neighbors. Many of the neighbors become interesting and obliging friends.

It also gives them a feeling of being useful, which women need at every age in life. Instead of sitting home alone, night after night, these women are often booked weeks in advance by young parents who depend on them for a little freedom and recreation. To the children, they are like adopted grandmothers.

The money they earn is a real ego-builder. So are such words from grateful parents as, "I don't know what we would do without you" and "we never worry about the children when you are with them."

So if you have the health and strength, look into baby-sitting as a way of adding to your income and making yourself a contributing member of your community.

As for friends, there is no age at which a person has to stop acquiring new ones. You must have stopped a long time ago if all your friends are gone.

A wise man once told me, "for every friend I lose I make a new one." That is the best way of making sure you don't outlive all of your friends.

Old Faithful Is Still on Schedule Despite 'Quake

Editor's Note: What did the Montana earthquake do to the famed geysers in Yellowstone National Park? Dean Stone, managing editor of the Maryville-Alcoa, Tenn., Times, who was vacationing here at time of the quake, reports that it changed the pace of many geysers.

By DEAN STONE
YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo., (AP) — Old Faithful is still on schedule, but last week's earthquake has apparently stepped up the pace of many geysers in Yellowstone National Park.

Economic Geysers, dormant for nearly half a century, was triggered into action.

Morning, Fountain and Cleopatra geysers are among those which have increased their tempo since the quake last Monday night.

Morning Glory Pool and other hot springs turned murky after the quake, but now appear to be returning to normal. Giantess Geysers, which usually plays two or three times per season for 12 to 36 hours, began erupting constantly following the quake.

Some of the park's thermal features have become less active.

Grand Geysers, which is larger than Old Faithful, has not been in action for several days. It normally erupts every nine hours.

Merrill D. Beal, park naturalist, said there is no change in Old Faithful's performance. He said the Fountain Paint Pot in the lower geyser basin "has definitely increased" in activity. It appears to be working its way into a parking lot area, Beal said.

Steady Geysers, which got its name for regularly gushing a stream 15 feet high, has diminished. It now just bubbles four to five feet.

HANDSOME—The clasp of friendship links France and Spain in the design for a new 50-franc stamp unveiled in Paris. The color has not yet been chosen for the stamp, which will be issued September 21, to mark the 300th anniversary of the Treaty of the Pyrenees. The treaty ended a 24-year war between the two countries and established the Pyrenees Mountains as their mutual boundary line.

Mag Reports On Early Pro Pithole Fight

Pithole sportsmen never dreamed of a million-dollar prize, but the fight crowd in the little boom town lacked nothing in enthusiasm especially when there was a good bet involved and a local pugilist was the odds-on favorite.

Professional boxing was unheard of in 1866, and the boxing match of that time made even the wildest brawl in the modern sport look like kid's play. A round was over when one of the boxers was knocked down, and the fight lasted until somebody either quit or was unable to continue.

In the early days of the sport, the matches were usually held at a clearing in the woods. The boxers fought with bare fists and referees were practically unheard of.

One of the big bouts of the day matched the notorious Ben Hogan with a newcomer in the city, J. J. Holliday. The two battled for eight rounds before Holliday was forced to retire.

The account of the fight was published in Harper's Monthly in April, 1866.

In part, the account said: "Fifth round—Two feints on the mug and close. Hogan lifts Holliday clear then throws him a summersault, and he fell again. Time 1 1/2 minutes.

"Sixth round—Holliday rather slow to the scratch, and falls flat in 1 1/4 minutes.

"Seventh round—Holliday draws blood on Hogan's nob, and both go to corners in 1 minute.

"Eighth round—Sparring fast and rough; ended in foul blow by Holliday, went down. Time 1 1/2 minutes.

"This ended the fight."

New Professional Football League To Start in 1960

DALLAS (AP) — The American Football League flexed its muscles today and promised competition for the staid old National Football League with better salaries for both players and game officials.

Most everything is set for the first venture of the newly organized professional league in 1960. Naming of a commissioner and a decision on whether to expand to eight clubs will be handled at a meeting Sept. 12-13 in Los Angeles.

A committee of Lamar Hunt, the young Dallas oil man who founded the league when he couldn't obtain a franchise in the NFL; H. P. Skoglund of Minneapolis and Barron Hilton of Los Angeles was appointed here Sunday, at the windup of the circuit's second meeting, to select the commissioner.

Dallas, New York, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Los Angeles and Denver make up the league and it was explained that all were backed by sufficient money to operate for several years without profit although some of the club owners said they didn't anticipate they would lose anything even at the start.

Big television contracts were considered in the offing and Harry Wismer, the noted broadcaster who is one of the New York owners, said games would be televised in New York on Saturday afternoons. This would conflict directly with the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. game of the week.

Hunt said the league planned to offer 10 per cent more minimum salary than the NFL; that it would also pay the officials more, and that players would receive more money for exhibition games.

Apparently the chances of the league expanding to eight clubs for its first season rest with Seattle. If that city can obtain the University of Washington Stadium it will get a franchise. Then another city would have to be taken in. There are plenty of applications—Buffalo, Miami, San Diego, Kansas City and Vancouver, Canada. The latter was not expected to be given much consideration however, because it is in Seattle's territory and besides Hunt said "we wouldn't want to hurt the Canadian League."

The method and date of the league's first draft also will be set at Los Angeles. The draft is to be in December.

Speaking of Sports

A grand time was reported by the 112 Hot Stove players and adults who watched the Pirates subdue the Dodgers last Saturday. Warren City Lines chartered the boys down. Clyde "Sam" Loomis of City Lines reported only one minor incident. One of the players took his tooth brace off while eating in Pittsburgh and accidentally threw it away. When the caravan stopped at the Butler interchange enroute to Warren, City Lines sent their Chevy limousine back to Pittsburgh with the lad and his father. In the garbage can in Buettown where he threw the lunch sack containing the brace—the little leaguer found the brace—which saved Dad considerable expense, we might add.

NICKY CREOLA'S ALL SET
To join forces with Cleveland Indians in spring training next year. The former Dragon outstanding basketball star and baseball letterman, has signed, as a Bonus Baby with the Scalpers, a Class C contract.

In talking with Creola, he credited his Dad, Nick Sr., for his development into a major league prospect. Hot Stove League was also a factor. Nick's been in HS for 12 years, nine of those years playing under Bettis Machine Co. banner. Nick has played on a championship team 11 of the 12 years in the little league.

Playing with semi-pro Warren Rockets of Intercity League this year, Nick lead the loop in runs scored, 28, and was third in batting, .403. (In high school, he was batting .460 this past spring). Coach Joe Massa had Nick on his cage teams for three years, while he also played baseball for the past two years for Dragons.

Aug. 14, Nick worked out in hitting and fielding with the Pirates. The Bucs are the Bonus Baby's favorite team. He went on the field with Pirates before they played Milwaukee (Pitt won 2-1). They also ran Nick and timed him. "They treated me very good. The players are very friendly and they helped me a lot."

His tryout with Baltimore during Fourth of July week in Jamestown didn't bring around a clause for further schooling, as Pittsburgh. A chance to attend college was a big factor in Nick accepting Cleveland's offer. "I want my education," he said. He'll study Liberal Arts in Kent State U.

From his outstanding scholastic play on the hardwood and diamond, Kent State, Alliance, Waynesburg and Ohio State wanted to give Nick full-time basketball and baseball offers to attend their campus. But big time baseball is Creola's food.

With Friend Pitching Bucs Make It 11 Wins of Last 13

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe those Pittsburgh Pirates aren't dead after all.

Sure, they're still fourth, seven games shy of first in the National League race, but Bob Friend, the ashen ace, is back in business and the Bucs are blowin' up a storm.

They've lost only 5 of 20 since shelving a 1-12 skid, and they've won 11 of their last 13.

After taking three of four from both Los Angeles and Milwaukee, the Pirates made it four straight Monday night, knocking off first-place San Francisco. Friend gave up a dozen hits but won his third in a row with a 6-0 decision over the Giants in the opener of a three-game series.

That ended the Giants' streak at four and trimmed their lead to 3 1/2 games over Los Angeles. The Dodgers regained second place with an 8-2 breeze against last-place Philadelphia while the Chicago Cubs beat Milwaukee 3-0 behind Bob Anderson's six-hit pitching, slipping the Braves to third.

The Pirates got to right-hander Sam Jones (16-12) for eight of their 13 hits and the first of Rocky Nelson's two home runs for a quick 3-0 lead. A double by Don Hoak and a single by Bill Virdon scored one in the second and Nelson then swatted a two-run homer in the third.

Rocky's other home run, his fifth, was off Bud Beyerly, fourth Giant pitcher.

Gil Hodges drove in five runs for the Dodgers, singling home a pair in a four-run first inning and then counting three in the second with his 20th home run. Norm Larker also homered for the Dodgers, combining with Hodges for five of their nine hits.

Southpaw Sandy Koufax (7-4) checked the Phillies on four hits. Young Bob Anderson (11-3) gained his first major league shut-out for the Cubs. He walked one and struck out five while beating Lew Burdette (17-13) for his fourth straight success.

The Cubs got six of their seven hits during Burdette's eight innings, scoring in the first on a walk, Jim Marshall's single and an error, and making it 2-0 on Tony Taylor's seventh homer in the third. Their other run came in the eighth on singles by Cal gneeman and George Altman.

Little League Is Opening Tourney At Williamsport

The 20th annual baseball tournament for boys 9 to 12 years old opens here today with two afternoon games in a new stadium that seats 10,000.

In the first round of the week-long tourney, Schenectady, N.Y., faces Valleyfield, Quebec, and San Juan, Puerto Rico, meets Hamtramck, Mich.

Tournament officials predict that with good weather the series should attract a record attendance.

The weatherman forecast partly cloudy skies with a chance of scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers.

Eight teams of youngsters are entered in the tourney. They survived playoff eliminations in the 5,200 affiliated leagues in the United States, Canada, Latin America and Europe.

The championship will be decided Saturday.

With Triandos blasting. Hoyt Wilhelm (13-8) won his third in a row for the Orioles. The knuckleballing right-hander, backed by Triandos homers in five of his victories, finally gave in to the heat, however, after walking only one and giving up just four hits through eight innings. Jack Fisher pitched the ninth.

Triandos, who had two singles in addition to his 24th and 25th home runs, singled home two runs in the third for a 3-0 lead against loser Don Mossi (11-8), then blasted a grand-slam in a six-run fourth against reliever Ray Narleski. His other homer, a two-run shot, came in the sixth against Jim Stump.

The White Sox broke a 1-1 tie and handed Don Larsen (6-7) his sixth straight defeat when Aparicio collected a pop-fly double in the third inning and scored on Jim Landis' single. Landis scored the clincher in the fifth with a two-out single ahead of Sherm Lollar's double for a 3-1 lead.

Reliever Turk Lown then came on and blanked the Yankees on three hits over the last 3-1-3 innings, saving it for Ray Moore (3-6).

Aparicio scored on a Landis single in the seventh after his two steals.

Fabulous Giants Stay Calm During Heated Campaign

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Baseball has been started.

The hard-boiled businessman been taken aback.

Sleeping pills have been dealt a low blow.

Blame it on the fabulous San Francisco Giants.

They claim they're able to relax in the midst of a hectic National League pennant race. And they attribute a great deal of their success to playing it cool, man.

Of course it's guys like Mays, McCovey, Kirkland, Cepeda, Antonelli and Jones who are keeping the Giants on top but the underlying secret weapon is relaxation.

"This club doesn't know what pressure means," says catcher Jim Hegan. "I played with two pennant teams at Cleveland but it wasn't like this."

"We go into Milwaukee and the papers say it's a crucial series. Huh! It's a picnic. These guys joke and laugh, win or lose. And I think it's a healthy attitude."

"Only once did they stop laughing. We lost four in a row. Then Willie McCovey came along. When he caught fire, everybody else caught fire."

Rigney recalls last Friday morning when the Giants arrived in Philadelphia at 5 a.m. for a two-night doubleheader that night. One might figure the Giants would be disgruntled, sleepy and irritable. But not so.

"It was the funniest thing I ever heard in baseball," Rigney laughs. Sam Jones stood up on the bus and made the craziest speech you ever heard. He had everybody rolling in the aisles. Imagine—at 5 a.m."

Sox Pad Lead in American With Aparicio Base Thefts

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox has put away 42 stolen bases—the top total in the majors in 15 years—on 52 tries.

A clinch for his fourth straight stolen base title, Aparicio was at his usual best Monday, stealing second and third after getting a walk and then scoring on an infield single for an extra cushion as the White Sox beat New York 4-2 and padded their American League lead to two games over the Cleveland Indians.

Baltimore regained fourth place from Detroit in the only other AL game scheduled, rapping the Tigers 11-0 as Gus Triandos walloped a pair of homers and drove in seven runs.

The White Sox broke a 1-1 tie and handed Don Larsen (6-7) his sixth straight defeat when Aparicio collected a pop-fly double in the third inning and scored on Jim Landis' single. Landis scored the clincher in the fifth with a two-out single ahead of Sherm Lollar's double for a 3-1 lead.

Country Club Meet Won By Lake Shore, 139-111

Lake Shore CC of Erie defeated Conewango Valley club swimmers in a meet in the Gem City pool Monday afternoon, 139 to 111.

Competition was close, finish being decided on outcomes of relays. The local "fish" won three of the eight relays, but lack of depth hindered Conewango swimmers.

Conewango Valley team was without Doug Walters who was unable to make the trip due to illness.

Placing first from Warren in the event were "Zippo" Beatty in 25 and 50-yard freestyle in the 10 to 12 years of age division; Linda Werner, 50-yard freestyle and 75 yard individual medley in 15-15 age group; Lana Donovan, 25-yard breaststroke, 10-12; Louise Carter, 50-yard backstroke in 13 to 15 year old swimmers.

Lee Ruchie captured two second places and participated on a winning relay. Beatty, Werner, Pece O'Connor, Tony Carter, Dave Dahler, Kristen

Defending Champ Beats Par in Women's Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defending champion Anne Quast beat par by three strokes through the last six holes Monday and won a 5 and 4 decision from Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C. in the first round of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship. She was 1 under for the 14 holes.

Anne, 21-year-old Marysville, Wash., brunette, was one of only two in the starting field of 128 to better par on Congressional Country Club's 6,457-yard, 37-74 course.

Joanne Goodwin, 23, Haverhill, Mass., three times Massachusetts titleholder, chipped 1 off regulation to dispose of Mrs. Davis L. White, Winchendon, Mass., 5 and 4.

Joanne Gunderson, 20, the 1957 U.S. champion from Kirkland, Wash., was 1 over in beating Mrs. George R. Patterson, Montreal, also 5 and 4.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., a veteran of six Curtis Cup teams, was ousted by Mrs. Paul De J. Indianapolis, six times Indiana champion, 1 up. Maureen Orcutt, Hawthorn, N.J., lost a 3 and 2 struggle to Judy Rand, 16, Aurora, Ohio, the new national girls champion.

Two additional Curtis Cuppers also fell out. Jane Nelson, Indianapolis, was dropped by Mrs. Donald O'Brien, Richmond, Va., city champion 4 and 2, and Mrs. Helen Sigel Wilson, Philadelphia by Mrs. Barbara Bruning McGhie, Armonk, N.Y., 2 and 1.

Champion Black Knights Jones Chevy Victims, 6-2

Jones Chevrolet pulled their second upset of the season over Betts Machine last night, taking the opening Shaughnessy playoff game 6-2.

City Softball game was played before capacity crowd at State Hospital as the Sheffield combine took one step forward to action in the finals.

Chevy salesman backed recently acquired Booney Sturdevant as he pitched a no-hit game to trample the league champions.

Outcomes of the game was not decided until last inning, when the heavy bat of Branch Hammerbeck fell against the ball, punting out a home run with Gusafson on board to break a 2-2 tie.

Hoden followed with a single and moved to third on Kolesar's double. Rosetti had a deep right fly to score the third Sheffield run. Eisenhower singled to score another marker.

Sheffield registered their first tally in second inning. Kolesar moved to first after Bires was hit by a pitched ball.

Braves Fail To Take Advantage of "Lift"

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves' refusal to accept a helping hand is bordering on the line of downright rudeness in the National League pennant fight.

Some 26,000 fans buzzed as Pittsburgh's 6-0 victory over first place San Francisco was posted on the scoreboard Monday night. But apparently the Braves didn't hear—and they bungled a chance to close in on the Giants.

Chicago right-hander Bob Anderson stymied Milwaukee on six hits for a 3-0 shutout which dropped the Braves back into third place, a game behind Los Angeles. The Dodgers moved to within 3½ of San Francisco by beating Philadelphia 8-2.

Soda Mineral Out One Game in City Playoffs

Solar Electric Bombers came from behind Monday evening to win first game of a best-of-three series in the count down in City Softball on West Side Field.

Soda Mineral fell before the Bombers, 4 to 1, after holding the lead in their half of second inning.

Tomorrow night on West Side, Bombers and Soda Mineral will clash in what could be the deciding game. Pop distributors said they're out to win Wednesday in order to stay in the running for the third game in the playoffs. Bombers, on the other hand, want to eliminate S-M and hope to accomplish this tomorrow.

Bob Schneider and Bob Harrison engaged in a pitcher's duel before a large crowd on West Side. Bombers touched Harrison for nine safeties, while S-M tapped seven off Schneider.

After a scoreless first inning and a runless top of second, Soda broke on top in their half. Hal Brown reached base on an error, moved to second on a ground out. Hal scored on Dick White's hit.

Solar bounced back in third to push across two runs on an error, a sacrifice and singles by Ned Bartholomew, Jim Graziano and Dick Mancuso.

Bombers struck for another pair in fifth. Lou Cummings led off with a home run wallop to right. Bill Massa walked, was pushed to sack No. 3 by Graziano's second consecutive single, and then came home on Harold Kane's line hit to right.

"Both pitchers showed plenty of clutch ability in pitching out of several tight spots," a League official explained today.

Leaders Having Difficult Time With Pittsburgh

By STERLING SLAPPEY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — League leading San Francisco second place Los Angeles and third place Milwaukee have visited Probes Field in the past 10 days and Pittsburgh has whipped them in seven out of nine games.

Los Angeles lost three of four, Milwaukee three of four and thus far in the new series, San Francisco has lost one out of one.

San Francisco came in Monday night with a four game winning streak and the happy prospects of taking the pennant to the West Coast for the first time.

But pitcher Bob Friend let the League leaders have 12 singles but none of them was worth a nickel. San Francisco could not get a run while Pittsburgh got six.

Friend fanned three in the eighth and in the ninth with the bases loaded he struckout Willie McCovey. It was the kind of time when you might expect Willie to hit a homer.

Rocky Nelson belted two home runs (5) to spark the Pirates.

Pittsburgh is still seven games out of first place and their prospects of getting on top by flag day are just about remote. They have only 28 games to play.

Dodgers Come To Life To Sweep Phils Series

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Just when some baseball observers were digging the grave for the Los Angeles Dodgers and southpaw Sandy Koufax, both come to life.

The Dodgers, after dropping three in a row to Pittsburgh over the weekend, came to Philadelphia and swept the Phillies 8-2 Monday night.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to regain second place and move to within 3½ games of the San Francisco Giants who lost 6-0 to Pittsburgh.

Koufax, a Brooklyn native, who has been hobbled by a sore arm and wildness, gave up only four hits and struck out 13, bleeding a sharp curve with a good fast ball.

Kane Woods Give Up Scarred Bruin

A late report on the find of an aged and crippled bear near Kane was learned here today from Pennsylvania Game Commission.

On July 29, a cooperative assistant district ranger named Dick Obyo phoned Game Protector Leo Milford and told him where there was a crippled bear near Kane at an isolated spot on Allegheny National Forest lands.

Milford reports: "I left my headquarters at once and drove to the described locality. Starting at the road I followed the trail the animal left in the leaves. After traveling about three-fourths of a mile I saw the bruin, a male weighing approximately 350 pounds. As I approached, the animal attempted to drag itself away but made little headway due to the fact its hind quarters were paralyzed. Having satisfied myself the bear could not recover I ended its pitiful existence with a bullet.

After a thorough examination I decided the paralysis was due to old age. The animal's tusks and teeth were worn to the gums. The body showed no signs of fresh wounds or injuries. But I found numerous, old battle scars and signs of two bullet wounds long since healed when I partially skinned the bruin where it fell. He was not a victim of a recent shooting or injury by a highway vehicle. There were signs of two bullet wounds, one in the chest and one in the stomach. There was nothing to indicate injury to the spine or hind quarters. The old fellow's face was well-scarred, evidently the result of combat. I brought the head out with me for further study.

It is my opinion this old warrior, the largest bear I've seen in the wild, was about ready to enter the happy hunting ground, or wherever bears eventually go. Certainly it would be interesting to know the history of this bear and learn of the luck and cunning that enabled him to survive the many hunting seasons during his lifetime."

Silky Sullivan Said To Be at Career End

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) — Silky Sullivan, the barrel-chested horse who symbolized heart throbs and heartbreak for thousands of racing fans, is at the end of his career.

Tendon trouble has forced him out of the Del Mar meeting, and co-owner Tom Ross says the big fellow will be returned to his ranch for stallion duty.

Silky earned only $157,000 in three years of racing, and $83,900 of that came from winning the 1958 Santa Anita Derby, his only major victory.

Silky didn't live up to his early reputation of running down the speed horses from 15 to 30 lengths back, and he failed miserably in the 1955 Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Shortage of Nuns Moves 200 Pupils Into Kane Schools

KANE—A shortage of teachers forced the closing of St. Callistus Parochial School here. Result will be transfer of almost 200 students into the Kane Area Joint School System.

Paul R. Miller, superintendent of the Kane Area School System, said he did not anticipate any serious problems from the unexpected enrollment increase. Schools open Sept. 8.

The Rev. Carl L. Lippert, pastor of St. Callistus church, announced the school closing during mass Sunday. He said the Benedictine Order of teaching nuns could not supply teachers this year. The Rev. Lippert conferred with Mr. Miller Saturday when he had been notified of the teacher shortage.

According to Mr. Miller there will be enough classroom space for the transfer of the students. He said additional teachers will be needed but that students would be assigned schools most convenient to them geographically.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morelli, Gladys and Millie Morelli, Ludlow, with Louis Morelli of Erie. Mrs. Anthony Morelli and three children of Warren, vacationed recently in Atlantic City. Louis Morelli has left for Brazil in South America, where he will represent his firm, Erie City Iron Works, as an engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dippery, Delray Beach, Fla., were guests at the Robert E. Westman home while en route to Jamestown, N. Y., after a 5,000-mile trip to New Orleans, Kansas City and Misamarc, N. D. They were also callers at the Enoch Nelson and J. S. Mattison homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winkler, Detroit, have been visitors at the John Fox home.

Relocation

Some difficulty has been experienced by the Army Engineers in negotiating with the Pennsylvania Railroad over abandonment of track near the dam. Harmon said this was because the railroad personnel with which the engineers have been negotiating have retired. He said the negotiations concern routing of trains over other routes.

Negotiations

(From Page One) company has refused to agree to any increase in labor costs, claiming that they would force a price increase in steel and thus contribute to inflation. Steelworkers averaged $5.11 an hour just before the strike.

The strike has idled half a million steelworkers and shut down almost 90 per cent of the nation's steelmaking capacity. A not a 150,000 workers in allied fields are out of work as a result of the strike.

Since World War II there have been six work stoppages in steel. The longest, in 1952, was for 59 days. The second longest, in 1949, was for 42 days. The longest steel strike on record was in 1909, for 14 months.

Heat

Both the original committee plan and the Rayburn compromise differ from the request of President Eisenhower. He had asked Congress to raise the tax 1½ cents a gallon for five years.

Since the penny increase would bring in half a billion dollars a year or less revenue than the proposal of the President, both the Rayburn and committee plans would make this up by taking 800 million dollars a year from the government's general revenues.

This would begin in 22 months under the original committee proposal and in 12 months under the Rayburn compromise.

Unless Congress agrees on ways to get the program out of the red for the next few years, construction on the 41,000-mile interstate network will soon come to a halt.

Home-Made

(From Page One) his brother, 13, made the bomb from aluminum sulphate they had purchased at Taipei, Formosa, where they lived while their father—a colonel—was stationed there with the air force. They made the device with a glass pint jar.

The older boy said his family had stopped at Little Rock to visit relatives while en route to a new Air Force assignment at Whiteman Air Force Base, Sedalia, Mo. A third youth, their cousin, who "came along for the ride" in the incident, is a senior at Hall. He told newsmen he had nothing to do with the prank.

Expect

(From Page One) hurry to get it to the floor before the closing hours of this session, possibly late next week.

Rebutted once by the President with his veto, leaders plan to complete congressional action on the Senate-passed housing measure just before adjournment and hand it to Eisenhower on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

The bill, passed by the Senate Aug. 18, had been resting in a pigeon hole in the desk of Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) until Monday, when he handed it to the Banking Committee for action.

In its present form, the Senate-passed bill contains features that led the President to veto a larger bill passed earlier this session. Among them are provisions for new public housing, loans for college classrooms, and money to build housing for elderly people.

Senate Approves Bill To Extend Taproom Hours

HARRISBURG (AP)—The creation of special permits which would allow beer and liquor sales until 2 a. m. on Sundays was approved Monday night by the Senate State Government Committee.

Present law requires taverns to stop selling alcoholic beverages at midnight on Saturday night but allows sales until 2 a. m. on other mornings.

Tavern owners wishing to stay open for the additional two hours would be required to pay the state an additional $200 a year for the privilege.

Mississippi Choosing 52nd Governor Today

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi will choose its 52nd governor today in what political observers expect to be a tightly contested Democratic runoff primary.

Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, who has served two successive terms, predicted he would sweep 50 to 55 of the state's 82 counties.

Ross Barnett, successful Jackson claims attorney making his third straight gubernatorial try, said he would take 60 counties.

Top vote in the primary amounts to election in this solidly Democratic state. The Republican party is not running a candidate. The winner will take office Jan. 19.

NOT DOING TOO GOOD

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Old soldier Walter W. Williams, 116, spent a second night out from under his oxygen tent Monday night but his daughter, Willie Mae Bowles reported "he's not doing too good."

Williams, the Civil War's last living soldier, has been in critical condition for several weeks. His doctor said he failed to regain his strength after an attack of pneumonia.

Calls

that the allies "restate our readiness to negotiate realistically with the Soviets on any reasonable and mutually enforceable plan for general or special disarmament."

President Eisenhower also called for "a real beginning toward solving the problems of a divided Germany," and new efforts to ease world tensions.

Eisenhower's news conference attracted 233 reporters to a newly air-conditioned conference room.

Responding to one inquiry, the President said this government will welcome Khrushchev to the United States as a chief of state—in effect as top man—and not as a head of government, his technical position.

That means, the President went on, that as of now he is planning to meet the Kremlin leader at the airport on his arrival here Sept. 15.

Presumably the other etiquette of diplomacy relating to visits by a chief of state will be observed throughout the Khrushchev visit.

The President said the Soviet government has informed the State Department that Khrushchev's status is in substance that of a chief of state.

The President dealt also with these other topics:

LEGISLATION—With adjournment of Congress nearing, Eisenhower announced he has written Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) that he wants action before adjournment on legislation in the fields of debt management and interest rates, financing of the highway construction program, and the Federal Housing Administration insurance program.

The President said he also wants an effective labor reform bill, civil rights legislation and adequate funds for foreign aid.

LAOS—Eisenhower cited Communist rebel action in Laos as an example of why the foreign aid program must be kept strong. In response to questions, he said Laos has not asked the United States for troops but has requested money and equipment. Such aid is needed, Eisenhower said, to help that kingdom's police force maintain internal order. He added that the matter of granting such help to Laos is under urgent study.

NUCLEAR—There has been no decision as to whether the United States will extend its current one-year suspension of nuclear tests beyond the Sept. 30 expiration date.

STEEL—Eisenhower said again that he has no plans for government intervention in the steel strike unless the situation should develop a threat to national security.

He gave no hint as to when he thinks dwindling steel supplies might reach such a point.

Conferees

1. To reject a Senate provision excluding service assistants in the telephone industry from the definition of a supervisor, and thus make them subject to union membership. It was not in the House bill.
2. The first of these makes a dent in a section of the Taft-Hartley law—a section once denounced by President Eisenhower as union-busting. Some employers strongly opposed eliminating it.
3. The prehearing election provision also had administration support but again was fought by some employers, especially retailers.

Situation At-a-Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Idle—500,000 striking steelworkers and 150,000 others in industries allied with steel.

Negotiations—Union President David J. McDonald is scheduled to rejoin talks in New York Wednesday for the first time in two weeks. Meanwhile, there appears to be little to cheer about in the way of progress.

Issues—15 cents an hour more pay and better fringe benefits.

Losses—$370,000,000 weekly in wages and production.

Hot, humid weather prevailed from the Plains eastward to the Atlantic seaboard. Temperatures pushed higher in New England, the South, Midwest and Southwest.

Government forecasters gave no promise of early relief.

PLCB Employees Win Promotional Fight in Assembly

An Act of Legislature, HB 79, which passed the Senate by a vote of 59 to 6 last Monday afternoon, gives Civil Service employees in Pennsylvania the right to promotion on seniority and merit without written examination if the employing agency desires to use the system.

The bill, sponsored by the Independent Association of Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board Employees, passed the House earlier with only a few dissenting votes.

Authority of the Civil Service Commission in original appointments and reviewing is not affected by the new law. All employees with a grievance still have the right of appeal to the Commission.

The controversy over the promotion system arose some time ago, when the Commission declined to impose promotional examinations on approximately 5,000 PLCB employees who have had job advancement by seniority and merit since the inception of the State Store system. Long-time employees rebelled at the threat to their hard-earned positions on promotion lists.

The bill, which was supported by the PLCB, was actively opposed by both the Civil Service Commission and the AFL-CIO.

FBI Apprehends Man Sought for Murder

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Larry Lord Motherwell, object of a nationwide search, was arrested at the airport early today.

Motherwell, 43, was the object of a search by the FBI in connection with the disappearance of Pearl Ida Putney, 72, a prominent Washington, D.C., widow last August.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Motherwell, using the name Craig DuBar Foster, was recognized by two FBI agents as he was about to take off on a flight for Cleveland, Ohio.

He offered no resistance and was unarmed.

Motherwell told authorities he had been living in Atlanta since mid-July and that he was unemployed. He was seeking a job as a salesman in Cleveland, the FBI said.

In June 1958, Mrs. Putney and Motherwell left here on a cross-country trip after she sold much of her property, the FBI said.

Approximately a fourth of a human, female skeleton, identified as Mrs. Putney's, was unearthed in Turner Canyon, Sierra County, Calif., Aug. 16, 1959.

38 Unaccounted for In Montana Resort

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Thirty-nine persons still are unaccounted for in this southwest Montana resort area today, a week after earthquakes that rocked the Pacific Northwest.

At one time Monday, the Red Cross listed as many as 88 persons as possibly missing. Many of these were located alive and well.

Nine persons were killed, and a 10th is missing and presumed dead.

The immediate concern here is for the massive earthquake which may have buried alive some campers in the Rock Creek area, downstream from Hebgen Dam where the quake centered.

Family Apprehended And Given Rabies Shots

ATLANTA (AP)—A three-state search for a Pennsylvania family was called off Monday night after James Andersons of Atlanta were found. Two of them were treated for possible rabies infection.

The alert was sounded after it was learned that a rabid pet dog had bitten the three Anderson children in Birmingham.

The family was spotted by Ralph Hardie of Stone Mountain, Ga., two miles east of Scottsdale on U. S. 78. The Andersons had stopped for a picnic and Hardie recognized their vehicles, a moving van and car. He told them of the radio messages and they went to Grady Hospital in Atlanta for treatment.

Mystery

RCFA officials said positive identification would not be possible until the searchers returned to Comox later today.

Another United States Neptune was discovered wrecked on the same mountain in September, 1957, and was identified as one reported missing a year earlier with 11 persons aboard. Only nine persons were believed aboard the plane which disappeared in 1948.

Archery Season Permits On Sale; Doe Tags Oct. 5

Archery hunting licenses are on sale in the office of County Treasurer Robert L. Ritchie, who reminded hunters they must have their regular hunting license when they buy the bow permit. The archery deer hunting season this year is Oct. 3 to 30.

The county treasurer reported sale of antlerless deer season permits will begin Oct. 5 for state residents. Six permits per person is the limit. The doe season opens for three days Dec. 14. Out-of-state residents cannot apply for doe permits until 30 days before the season.

The county treasurer said applications already are coming in by mail. He said applicants must include return postage with the $1.15 fee. A regular license is required and hunters applying by mail on the form supplied by the state must include the letter and number of their regular license. Persons applying for more than one permit must include postage for that number.

Top Band Secured For Centennial Ball Saturday

WARREN COVINGTON

This Saturday evening the appearance of Warren Covington and the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra will climax the week-long celebration of Oil's first 100 years. A gala formal ball will be held at the Colestock High School Gym starting at 9 p. m., and a few tickets are still on sale at the Centennial Office.

The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, featuring Warren Covington, comes to Titusville direct from the Steel Pier, Atlantic City. This week the band is broadcasting via the CBS Radio Network each evening at 10:30, local time.

What a treasury of memorable music Tommy Dorsey created for us! It is no wonder that, under Warren Covington's expert direction, the never to be forgotten music of the "Sentimental Gentleman" can never die, but will live on and on, to thrill even the generations to come.

So many of our top stars had their careers start when TD gave them that first big push. Names such as Sinatra, Jo Stafford, the Pied Pipers, Gene Krupa, Buddy Rich, Ziggy Elman, Charlie Spivak all were under the protective TD wing.

And the music! As long as people listen, dream and dance, they'll do it to the music that will be played Saturday night. Remember "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You"—"Marie"—"Who"—"There Are Such Things"—"Opus One"—"Somewhere A Voice Is Calling"—"I'll Never Smile Again"—"Tromboneology"—and all of the rest? Well, Warren Covington believes in that music, and that is the music you'll love all over again.

Handsome and personable, young Warren Covington is well known to TV-viewers for work on the Arthur Godfrey Jackie Gleason, Ed Sullivan, and Perry Como programs. He is the man on the Winston commercials, too. His early years were spent with many of the great name bands, such as Horace Heidt, Les Brown and Gene Krupa.

Immediately before taking over on the Dorsey Band, Warren gained national fame as leader of the popular Commanders Orchestra, touring the country and as recording stars of Decca Records. The first smash hit "Tea For Two" in cha-cha style, helped establish Warren as the new leader of the Dorsey Band.

So, by all means make your plans to attend some of the big events in Titusville this week. And, if you can only catch one of the activities, make sure it is the Centennial Ball, featuring the excellent trombone work of Warren Covington, the Tommy Dorsey Decca Recording Orchestra, all this Saturday night.

Justice of Peace Turns Music Critic in Court

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—The defendant sang in his own defense and the judge turned music critic Monday.

Philip Lombardo, 65, was charged with creating a public nuisance. He sang operatic arias—too much and too loudly, said his neighbors.

Said Lombardo: "I sing because I am full of happiness."

"Good?" he asked.

"No," said Grady. He gave Lombardo a four-month suspended sentence.

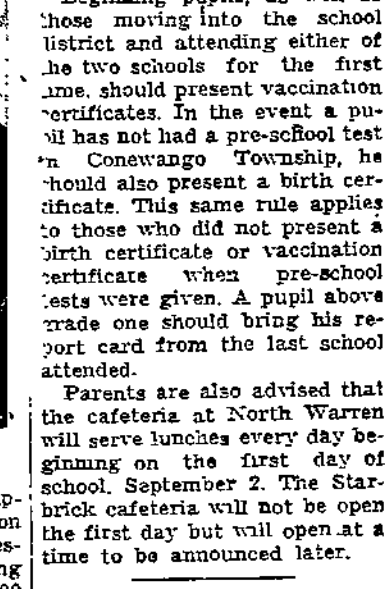

Date for Opening For Conewango Township Schools

Pupils of Conewango Township schools will report to their respective buildings at North Warren or Starbrick on Wednesday, September 2 for a full day of classes. Parents are advised that school buses will follow the same routes and schedules as last year.

All children now six years old or attaining their sixth birthday before February 1, 1960 may enter school September 2. Those who have not already taken their pre-school examinations may be examined at the beginning of the new term at Starbrick school, and at North Warren school between 9:00 a. m. and 12:00 noon on Friday, August 28.

Beginning pupils, as well as those moving into the school district and attending either of the two schools for the first time, should present vaccination certificates. In the event a pupil has not had a pre-school test in Conewango Township, he should also present a birth certificate. This same rule applies to those who did not present a birth certificate or vaccination certificate when pre-school tests were given. A pupil above grade one should bring his report card from the last school attended.

Parents are also advised that the cafeteria at North Warren will serve lunches every day beginning on the first day of school, September 2. The Starbrick cafeteria will not be open the first day but will open at a time to be announced later.

Victim Says Mountain Fell First and Then Water Came

By DWIGHT JONES
BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — The mountain fell first—and then the water came.
That's the account of a California dentist and his friends who survived the Madison Canyon earthquake and avalanche below Hebgen Dam Monday night.
Dr. Reed Quesnell of Arcadia, Calif., gave the account when questioned concerning a theory that water spilling over the dam raced through the canyon and swept some campers away before the mountain collapsed.
"Not so," said Dr. Quesnell. "First came the earthquake. Then the mountain collapsed into the canyon. And after that came a wave of water. This wave is what hit and injured a number of those hurt in the disaster."
Dr. Quesnell, his wife, and two friends and their families — Sam Kuenning of Lakewood, Calif., and Ike Kuenning of La Puente, Calif. — said they believed an unknown number of campers in the area were buried by the big slide.
"We have vacationed there every summer for 10 years," Dr. Quesnell said. "And every year there have been the same two trailers in the same place. They were there again this year, so close to the river they could fish from their doors. And those two trailers did not come out of the canyon when we were evacuated Wednesday. There undoubtedly are many others buried with them."

Cabinet Member In Titusville for Thursday Event

TITUSVILLE, — One of the rare appearances of a U. S. Cabinet member in this part of the state will take place here on Thursday, August 27, when Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield formally dedicates a U. S. postage stamp honoring the petroleum industry upon its 100th anniversary.
This ceremony, being held 100 years to the day after the birth of the American petroleum industry in Titusville, will be at 11 a. m. in Colestock High School auditorium. The public is invited, with seating on a "first come, first served" basis.
Featured on the program also will be Representatives Leon H. Gavin and Carroll D. Kearns. Another highlight will be the reading by Ned H. Dearborn, president of Oil Centennial, Inc., of a letter of greeting from President Eisenhower to the petroleum industry on its centennial. Robert C. Newell, executive director of Oil Centennial, Inc., will preside.
At the ceremony, Postmaster General Summerfield will present souvenir albums to a group of local and national figures. Each album contains a sheet of the new petroleum industry stamp autographed by the Postmaster General.
Following the public ceremony, Mr. Summerfield will be principal speaker at a luncheon for invited guests at the Titusville High School cafeteria. He will be introduced by Frank Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Timely Reminder About This Week's Centennial Program

Oil Centennial officials stressed today that none of the major events in Titusville this week require tickets of admission and pointed out that the general public is cordially invited to attend the activities.
A special invitation has been issued for the public to attend the two big events on Wednesday and Thursday this week. Wednesday evening at 8:15 the Second Century Conclave of Oil will be presented in Titusville High School gymnasium with a panel of outstanding speakers and Thursday at 3 p. m. the Centennial Keynote ceremonies will be given at Carter Field.
At the Wednesday night Conclave the speakers will include Capt. Matthew V. Carson, administrator of the Oil Import program, U. S. Department of the Interior; Arthur Butler, head of the National Highway Users Conference; John Sloan Dickey, President of Dartmouth College; and Leshe Barnes, president of Allegheny Airlines.
Westbrook Van Vorhis, well known CBS News commentator will be master of ceremonies.
The Centennial Keynote addresses will be given by Pennsylvania's governor David L. Lawrence and General Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission. A United States Army Band will provide special music at the Thursday afternoon exercises and a special feature will be the presentation of a posthumous commission of colonel in the Pennsylvania National Guard to Edwin L. Drake who drilled the first oil well 100 years ago. Two of Colonel Drake's granddaughters will be on hand to accept the commission.
Centennial officials also pointed out today that there are no restrictions on driving cars into Titusville this week except on Saturday. Therefore, those wishing to attend the Conclave and the Keynote events Wednesday and Thursday can drive their cars into the city.
Other Thursday activities include the Dave Garroway television show from Drake Well from 7 to 9 a. m., the Tank Car and Time Capsule ceremony at 9:30 a. m. and the dedication of the oil industry commemorative stamp at 11 a. m.

This calls for compromise, of which Johnson is a master, although the result is watered-down legislation.
These were some of the points in Johnson's program and what happened to them:
He called for a new farm program. Eisenhower has wanted to cut down government expenses by cutting down price supports. Congress passed a wheat bill and a tobacco bill which kept price supports up. Eisenhower vetoed both. The prospect: no farm bill this year.
Johnson called for legislation to help areas of chronic unemployment. Eisenhower had asked only $3 million dollars for this. The Senate voted 389 million, the House Banking Committee thought 251 million would be right. The bill has been lying in the Rules Committee for months. For all practical purposes, it seems dead. So does help for depressed areas.
Johnson said there should be stepped-up water development for the West. A Senate committee is looking into this. But it is not expected to make a recommendation before 1961.
Johnson wanted a "bold, new" housing program. Congress approved a bill the President thought was too costly. Eisenhower vetoed it. Now Congress is working on one it hopes he won't veto.
